

A Handbook for School Nurses (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from A Handbook for School Nurses To nurses everywhere, who, by their initiative, perseverance, and enthusiasm, have made possible the success of medical inspection of school children; who have been willing to embark, without guidance, on an entirely new venture; who have had the vision to see its possibilities, and the faith to persevere in the face of great obstacles; who have made up with enthusiasm and optimism what they lacked in the way of special preparation for the work - to these women this little book is dedicated with sincerest appreciation.
