

SOUL TRADER

Piper's heartaches and she doesn't know why. She felt like she was taking her last breath of air. She felt so much sorrow, and it's coming from all living things around her. Their sorrow is making her weep like a baby. She had a sensation that her spirit was being ripped from her physical body. It could be her human nature was dying? It doesn't matter which one it is, but it is tearing her up inside. Then there is a chill in the air that made her cold to the bone. But there is no wind tonight. That is when she realizes what she's feeling was her twin sister's soul and her soul was dying. She has two weeks to find her sister's soul or else she will have a malevolent demon for a sister. Piper will have to face many difficult challenges in order to save her both of their souls.
