

The Pre-Eminency of Jesus Christ: Foundational Truths

John bore witness to the Word of God and to the testimony of Jesus Christ (Rev. 1:2). As believers, Jesus is calling us to become life-giving witnesses to the power of His saving grace. He gave us His Spirit to live life as a testimony to who He is and to what He has done on the cross and through the cross (Acts 1:8; Rev. 19:10). Its important to understand that we can only testify and bear witness of things that we have seen, heard and experienced, in Him and through His Spirit. The Pre-Eminency of Jesus Christ will take you on a journey of discovery and assist you to grow in your scriptural revelation of who Jesus is. Its important to comprehend that Jesus cannot be explained and that He needs to be revealed to you as a believer (Matt. 16:13-17). No man can define Jesus for who He is, except Christ Himself. A revelation of who Jesus is comes through who He says He is in the power of the Holy Spirit. He alone defines Himself. He alone defines who He is in character and in nature and we should never lose focus of His sovereignty as the Lord our God (Isaiah 55:8-9). The Gospel of Jesus Christ is one of experience and not just hearsay. It is neither a weak nor a powerless Gospel. Its the, power of God unto salvation for everyone who believes (Rom. 1:16-17). Its powerful, for in it the righteousness of God is revealed (Romans 1:17). Jesus did not die to leave a feeble Gospel behind. In fact, He is the Gospel and He is experienced on two levels, first as the crucified Christ (Isa. 53) and secondly as the resurrected Christ (Rev. 1:10-18). It is one thing to have a revelation of Christ crucified (Isaiah 53); Its another, to have a revelation of Christ, as the resurrected Son of God (Revelation 1:10-18). Jesus calls us to have our own revelation of who He is and He calls us to have our own relationship with Him. Its a non-negotiable. So, what image do you have of Jesus? What is your perception of Him? Who do you say He is? Is He still hanging on the cross or has He become the all Powerful, Living, Lord God Almighty in your life, who calls Himself the great I AM? It doesnt matter where we are in our relationship with Jesus or where were at in life. If we stand in covenant with Him, Hell always call us into a deeper relationship with Him. No matter what weve done or not done, His invitation and call to a deeper level of intimacy, in Him and with Him, will always resound in the depths of our spirit. All that He expects from us is a response. The Psalmist says that there is a place where, deep calls unto deep (Ps. 42:7-8). Its a place where the Spirit of God speaks into the depths of the human spirit, ever calling us, to deeper levels of intimacy and consecration (Ez. 47:3-6). I pray that your journey through this work will lead you to a greater desire to know Christ and to follow Him, regardless the cost. May you be strengthened and encouraged as you journey through this work, and may you, like Paul, at the end of our journey say, I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race (and) I have kept the faith (2Tim. 4:7).
